SHERIFF RAIDS HOMES OF JERSEY STRIKERS

Pitty deputy sheriffs and private deectives on duty at Bohantown, a sul urb of Metuchen, N. J., where 1,300 men are on strike in the brick yards and play mines, last night raided the homes of the strikers in search of firearms. There had been no disorder among the strikers, many of whom had no grievance against their employers, but went out in sympathy with other

It is charged that many of the sheriffs and detectives were excited with sauer, which, however, they had not bought in Bohantown, all the saleons there having been closed by order of the Metuchen authorities.

The homes of a number of strikers were entered and searched. One man was found with a revolver and he was arrested. Michael Fedak, the largest property holder in Bohantown, and owner of a large number of the shacks occupied by the workmen, objected to the general search, telling the officers it was not lawful for them to force their way into the houses. their way into the houses.

their way into the houses.

Fedak was set upon and clubbed insensible. Dr. Lippincott, who came from Metuchen to attend him, said his condition is serious.

The actions of the deputies and detectives in searching the homes of the men and in clubbing Fedak and being under the influence of liquor while guarding property, so inflamed the strikers that further trouble is regarded as certain.

fealth Commissioner Lederle, in view the fact that many cases of tetanus or lockjaw follow the celebration in spite of the popular attitude toward a safe and axee Fourth, has prepared a large supply of antitoxin and will have a medical inspector ready for emergencies.

The latest treatment of the disease requires that the wound be cauterised and so kept clean until the tetamus antiboan can be injected. The public is urgently requested to inform the Health Department by telephone of all cases of injery resulting from the use of fireworks. Physicians can obtain the tetamus antitoxin free at the Health Department.

Commander Sears's Wife Offers to Take Victim to Hospital—Injury

Develops Seriously Later,

After falling in front of an automobile owned by Commander Walter J. Sears, U. S. N., retired, of the Hotel Girard, No. 123 West Forty-fourth street, superintendent of the Staten Island ferries Olsen Nills, a boatman, of No. 1769 Jerôme avenue, Bronx, is in Fordham Hospital. Dr. Foreman thinks the man has a fractured skull.

Mrs. Sears was in the car with two children and the chauffeur. As they neared Jerôme avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-seventh and entered through the roof scuttle. Several burglar tools were found. The candle was held for possible finger print identification.
